SOCIAL SECURITY TRIBUNAL DECISION
Appeal Division – Leave to Appeal

SOCIAL SECURITY TRIBUNAL MEMBER: Mark BORER

DATE OF DECISION: October 2, 2014

DECISION: Leave to appeal refused

DECISION

[1] On May 8, 2013, a panel of the board of referees (“the Board”) determined that the appeal of the Applicant from the previous determination of the Commission should be dismissed. In due course, the Applicant filed an application requesting leave to appeal to the Appeal Division.

[2] I have read and carefully considered the application of the Applicant. In her submissions she re-stated her position that she had been treated badly by her employer and should not have been fired. The Applicant also expressed the view that the Board did not address her arguments to this effect in their decision.

[3] It is my view that the Board did indeed address the submissions of the Applicant, as evidenced by their decision. Although the Applicant may be unhappy that they did not agree with her views, it is not my role to substitute my own views for that of the Board unless an error can be found.

[4] Other than this attempt to re-argue her case, the Applicant has articulated no specific error or ground of appeal that could cause me to intervene. I therefore turned my mind to the docket to determine if any ground of appeal existed on the face of the record.

[5] Having considered the appeal docket, the written submissions, and the decision of the Board, I find no ground of appeal that would have a reasonable chance of success. In my view, as evidenced by the decision, the Board conducted a proper hearing, weighed the evidence, made findings of fact, established the correct law, and applied the facts to the law.

[6] As it has no reasonable chance of success, this application for leave to appeal must be refused.
